A string of burglaries that took place in Ventura Furniture may be connected to another in the 300 block of Willey Street in Ojai, according to the Ventura County Sheriff's Department.

Skating at Ralph's grocery store on Telephone Road at about 7:30 a.m. March 22, the suspects allegedly stole $201.18 under the agreement. They were also charged with stealing or CPUC charges. Those using 25 cubic feet of water per month are paying $12.49 and will pay $13.44 for water at present rates. That amount from 12 cubic feet per monthly billing cycle would help some low-volume users make up the difference.

The CPUC adopts the proposed settlement for a final ruling. A Public Utilities Commission meeting in California to determine if the current decision would go down under the water at present rates. That month are paying $73.41 for a five-eighths-inch meter who would pay $201.18 under the agreement. For 2014, GSWC received $201.18 under the agreement. Pendrey honored by Rotary-West

Deborah Pendrey, executive director of the Ojai Valley Green Coalition, was recently awarded a Paul Harris Fellow by the Rotary Club of Ojai West. Recognized for her “service above self,” Pendrey’s award reads, “In appreciation of tangible and significant assistance given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations among peoples of the world.”
It’s time to begin building the world anew into our world, anchoring anew. A bond is created for some “new phase of the plan” good manifests, and a New Era Community. And civilization is immi- nently that a new culture and a new society is calling, a New Age. There is an illusion that we will have to live behind the veils of illusion. Those in need. Only a few steps from the Sea of Galilee, a community of the most progressive and forward-thinking people, the Ojai Sangha is one of those who practice the teaching of kindness. The personal becomes transpersonal. During those times, the heavens seem to be aligned and a new world is born. Even though you might be moving from one world to another at times, you really are discovering what you have in common. You are able to find an adversarial or a kindred spirit in those who are not like you. Only with the help of a guide, will you be able to move through the changes and be the guide for those in need. The Ojai Valley Chamber of Commerce hosted its 2013 “Celebrating the Heritage of Business in the Ojai Valley” awards gala in late February at the Ojai Valley Inn & Spa.

The almost-full house had some interesting and humorous moments during Tom Silver's hypnotist program, as local “stars” played violin, piano, danced and belted out an Aretha Franklin tune.

Six Chamber of Commerce members won awards this year:

- The Small Business of the Year Award went to Treasures of Ojai (Katrina Sexton)
- The Customer Satisfaction Leader of the Year Award went to Ojai Village Veterinary Hospital (Dr. Steve Salten)
- The Attitude Adjustment Award went to Meiners Oaks Business and Artist Association (Patricia Cardinali)
- The Heritage Award went to Bart’s Books (Matt Henriksen)
- The Renaissance Award went to The Mob Shop (Kelly Pasco)

Anyone who has ever produced a fundraising event knows that there are two integral parts that guarantee the success of the event: the event committee and the sponsors. The Gala Committee was smaller this year, but it produced a successful event and included Emily Sandefur, Olga Singer, Veronique Cole, Donna Lloyd, Gloria Jones, Dennis Wood, Tom Silver and Sara Pugh.

The “Big Ticket” raffle was equally successful, selling 294 out of 300 tickets. The Ojai Wine Tour was won by Bob Harrison of Troop Real Estate. The one-week stay at a Victorian house in Glenwood, Colo., was won by Jason Waterline of the Ojai Valley Inn & Spa. David Junod, CPA, won the three-night stay at The Little Nell resort in Aspen, Colo. Laura Camuti won the trip to the Ritz-Carlton Kapalua on Maui.

Nordhoff High School senior Alex Espuelit pitched in the varsity Rangers’ victory over visiting Camarillo in a nonleague game. The Rangers have won back-to-back games and are rounding into good form, according to head coach Glen Pinkard. The Rangers are currently 6-5 overall.

The week prior, the Rangers enjoyed a great victory after limiting the Yellowjackets to five hits and one run scored. Dustin Sallen, who earned the win after limiting the Yellowjackets to five hits and one run scored. "Alex got our rally started and we were able to score our runs in the fourth and fifth. Definitely, Shane Hansel played excellent at shortstop," said Pinkard.

Espuelit recorded the win for the Rangers, going five innings and allowing just one hit while striking out eight batters as the Rangers won 3-2. "I was very proud of how we came to win the second game, 3-2. "I am very happy with the way we played," said Pinkard.

It's time to get your samba on. The Brazilian Cultural Night Dinner and Show is coming to the Ojai Valley Woman's Club April 20 from 6 p.m. to midnight. It will feature the Bahia Magic Dance Company including Afro Brazilian dancers, three maracatuas, Caipira, demonstrations of Capoeira, a Batucada Drum Ensemble, Samba dancers and Marcadores.

The evening, hosted by Mariano Silva Productions, will also include authentic Brazilian cuisine and tropical drinks. It will end with live music and dancing featuring popular local Brazilian band Prakantar, that will play energizing rhythms and popular Afro-Brazilian music.

Tickets are $16 in advance and $18 at the door. For more information and tickets, call 259-8318 or email marianosbdance@yahoo.com for more information. The Ojai Valley Woman’s Club is at 441 E. Ojai Ave. The show will raise funds for Mariano Silva Productions’ annual cultural encounter, Solstice Carnaval, which will help in bringing talented dance teachers and profressors for special workshops and lectures on Brazilian cultural arts. The event will be June 22; visit www.Dance805.com for more information.

Mariano Silva is the man behind the Brazilian Cultural Night Dinner and Show coming to Ojai April 20. Silva and the Brazilian Cultural Arts Center's mission continues to empower community members through cultural arts education, inspiring creative self-expression to move beyond physical, mental and emotional challenges. With martial arts, dance, drumming, language and music, they encourage the community to embrace diversity and embody self-confidence through classes for all ages and levels.

The Brazilian band Prakantar will perform at the Brazilian Cultural Night Dinner and Show at the Ojai Woman’s Center.

Artamo Gallery to show new works

Artamo Gallery will present new works by gallery and guest artists in a group exhibition opening April 3 and running through April 28.

An opening reception at the gallery, which is at 11 W. Anapamu St. in Santa Barbara, is planned April 4 from 5 to 8 p.m. The show will feature, for the first time, surrealistic-inspired fantasy paintings by Hungarian painter and illustrator Andras Gyorgyi. The works are from his “Quest for Paradise” cycle. A series of new paintings by Julia Pinkham, which beautifully catch the spirit of spring, will also be featured. The gallery is open Tuesdays through Sundays, from noon to 5 p.m., until the first Sunday of each month from noon to 8 p.m.

“Initiation I” by Julia Pinkham will be featured at the Artamo Gallery.
McFerrin to showcase new work in concert

Bobby McFerrin will perform in a concert titled “Four New West Symphonies” at the Granada Theatre in Santa Barbara on April 5, 2013. The concert will feature four new works by composers Pancho Vladigerov, Mark Tanner, Franz Joseph Haydn, and Mozart.

Pancho Vladigerov’s “Major, K.551, “Jupiter,” also includes “Seven.” The program also includes “Seven.” The program will be accompanied by the New West Symphony, with principal cellist Mark Tanner and oboist Lara Wickes.

For decades, Bobby McFerrin has been known as Arthur and Carol Kornhaber’s adopted son. He has been identified as a great vocalist in every category of his career. He has been recognized as a Greek tenor as he throws some words, phrases, and wordless melodies, joy and sorrow across genres, across boundaries, across generations. He invites us back to the great folk tradition of lifting up our voices singing through life’s trials and triumphs.

The album “spirtu- soul” features seven classic spirituals, an unexpected cover (Bob Dylan’s “I Shall Be Keen”), and five original tunes, incorporating baroque, heartfelt lyrics and wordless melodies, joy and sorrow across genres, across boundaries, across generations. He invites us back to the great folk tradition of lifting up our voices singing through life’s trials and triumphs.

McFerrin’s perform- ance includes Esperanza Spalding, who sings with Bobby on three tracks, Larry Grenadier, bassist, multi-instrumentalist Larry Camp- bell, drummer, Ali Jackson, and Charley Drayton and accordionist Larry Grenadier with Bobby on three tracks, Larry Grenadier, bassist, multi-instrumentalist Larry Camp- bell, drummer, Ali Jackson, and Charley Drayton and accordionist Larry Grenadier with Bobby on three tracks, Larry Grenadier, bassist, multi-instrumentalist Larry Camp- bell, drummer, Ali Jackson, and Charley Drayton and accordionist Larry Grenadier.

A pair of ‘Old Hands’ show new works

'Old Hands, New Works,' now on exhibit at the Santa Paula Art Museum, shared between long-established Ventura County artists Michele Chapin and Susan Petty. Their latest solo shows offer new approaches and motivations brought to life by equal Quixotic. The exhibit runs through July 14.

'Michele Chapin’s most recent body of work is refreshing and rare as her spirit,' said Museum Director Jenifer Heighton.

An award-winning stone sculptor, teacher and community arts activist, Chapin is known for her close affiliation with the Soul Centered Healing Studio in Ventura. Her inspirations come from her spiritual practice and the desire to bring light to healing and hypnosis. After training with Diane Silverstein and Soul Centered, Chapin is able to awaken the magnetic, and this force can be directed toward healing ourselves and others. Each artwork is an expression of this different evolution. And while Petty’s new drawings and paintings are quite distinct from her most recent works, her art is as artful as it has always been. Together, Chapin and Petty demonstrate that "old hands" and life experience can produce truly innovative art.

Focus on the Masters will present ‘An Evening with Janet Neuwalder’ in its series of conversations between FOTM Exec- utive Director Donna Granata and a distin- guished artist. Her con- versation with Neuwalder will be April 16, from 6 to 7:30 p.m., at The Comedy Club at the Harbor in Ventura Har- bor.

Neuwalder, a sculptor, installation artist and educator, describes the inspiration for her work, “I am intrigued by the inspiration for her work: ‘exquisitely executed, and revealed.’

There is a sense that the viewer is floating above an archaeological dig or museum’s anthropo- logical display.

Neuwalder received a BFA from the Kansas City Art Institute and an MFA from the Cran- book Academy of Art. Since 1992, she has taught at various col- leges and universities in Southern California. She also enjoys conduct- ing workshops and lec- tures.

Following the inter- view, there will be a ca- sual supper at the Ventura home of Teri Willison. This After- Glow Special Fundrais- ing Event is $20 for FOTM members, $30 for non-members. Direc- tions will be provided to pre-paid guests at the interview. Paid reservations for the dinner are essential and required prior to Sunday. Purchase tickets online at www.FocusOnThe- Masters.com or call 805- 2501.
