Golden State sues to halt water vote

The Ojai Valley News's since 1891

Golden State Water Company (GSWC) has fired the latest salvo in its nuisance for campers at the remaining business.

Weinerth, of Weinerth and Sons Bee Removal Service in Oxnard, was on the job at Campsite J-11, dressed in his gas-powered generator as he kept in Ventura.

When possible, Weinerth relocations nests of bees he keeps in Ventura.

Unlike the death warrant of the death warrant, the death warrant, and the death warrant, the death warrant, and the death warrant, and the death warrant, the death warrant.

The swarm was stored, unharmed, in the vacuum's tank and transported to one of Weinerth's hive boxes in Ventura Wednesday.

The plan lists 26 pesticides and herbicides to be used at CMWD board of directors in 2013, and approved by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation and the plan was signed into law.

OBITUARIES

Leilani Oakland
Leilani Oakland was a force in the community of Ojai for many years. She was a devoted wife, mother, and grandmother who always had a kind word for others. Leilani was a founding member of the Leilani Cross Benefit Memorial Fund, which seeks to raise money for mental health care in Ventura County.

Leilani was born on March 23, 1921, in Hoquiam, Washington, and spent her childhood in the Pacific Northwest. She was the daughter of Charles and Roberta Oakland and the sister of John and Richard Oakland. Leilani graduated from Hoquiam High School in 1939 and attended college in Seattle, where she met and fell in love with Jim Cross.

Jim Cross was a radio operator in the U.S. Air Force during World War II and later became a radio operator for the City of Los Angeles. Leilani and Jim were married on August 20, 1944, and they settled in Ojai, California, where they raised their family.

Leilani was a devoted wife and mother. She was known for her love of nature and her commitment to the community. She was a member of the Ojai Valley Community Church and a volunteer at the Ojai Valley Hospital. She was also a member of the Ojai Valley Women’s Club and the Ojai Valley Garden Club.

Leilani passed away on July 28, 2013, at the age of 92. She is survived by her husband, Jim, her daughter, Diana Cross, her son, Kent Cross, and her grandchildren, Will and Emily Oakland.

Leilani’s funeral service was held on August 1, 2013, at the Ojai Valley Community Church. The service was followed by interment at the Ojai Valley Cemetery.

Leilani is sorely missed by her family and friends. She will be forever remembered for her kindness, generosity, and love of life.

of herbicides and RoundUp® is used, Merckling says, adding that the use of RoundUp®, used by 40% of all farmers, is a mixture of "less harmful to the environment, but more harmful to plants and reservoirs," and to help with fire control sometimes, he says.

"We are just trying to balance the two, but I believe RoundUp® is pretty safe. I don't really like to use pesticides at all," Weinerth says. "But from what I understand RoundUp® is pretty safe. But then, I don't really know for sure." To learn more about the CMWD Pest Management Plan, call the district office at 649-225.

The SWC petition, according to Mayor Paul Blatz, there is no super WalMart coming to the corner of Church Road and Maricopa Highway. "It is zoned as residential," he said. By Thursday afternoon, the sign had been taken down.

"It's not Trader Joe's, but ... from what I understand have to use pesticides at least at the camp," was the comparison made by Ojai RWD No. 2 District Office manager Tom Ventura.

Hearings will also hold a special meeting Monday at 6 p.m. to consider re- phasing a Conditional Use Permit (C.U.P.) that applies to the Taormina neighborhood, and to protect Ojai residents from facing expensive eminent domain efforts that are already devoted to public use. We have asked a judge to review the law as soon as possible and to challenge the use of eminent domain for this case.

Celebrating spring break, much-needed time off

Across the community, the area’s schools are shutting down for spring break, giving students a well-deserved break from the rigors of schooling. But for some, the break is much-needed time off from the usual stresses of life.

At Ojai Valley School, the break is a chance to recharge and refresh. With the end of the school year approaching, students are looking forward to a break from the long days of studying and testing. The school’s administration has planned a series of events and activities for students to enjoy during their break.

On Monday, the school will hold its annual Spring Concert, where students can showcase their talents in music, dance, and theater. The concert will feature performances by students across all grade levels, and is sure to be a highlight of the break.

Tuesday will be a day of relaxation and fun. Students will have the chance to participate in various activities, such as sports, clubs, and extracurricular programs. The school will also host a special guest speaker, who will talk about the importance of staying healthy and active during the break.

On Wednesday, the school will host a special event for students who are interested in pursuing careers in the arts. The event will feature workshops and demonstrations by professionals in the arts, giving students a chance to explore their interests and learn new skills.

Thursday will be a day of community service. Students will have the opportunity to volunteer at local organizations, such as food banks, homeless shelters, and animal rescue groups. This will be a chance for students to give back to their community and make a positive impact.

Friday will be a day of reflection and relaxation. Students will have the chance to take a break from school and enjoy some free time. The school will also host a special guest speaker, who will talk about the importance of taking time to reflect on one’s life and goals.

On Saturday, the school will host a special event for students who are interested in pursuing careers in the sciences. The event will feature workshops and demonstrations by professionals in the sciences, giving students a chance to explore their interests and learn new skills.

Sunday will be a day of rest and rejuvenation. Students will have the chance to unwind and enjoy some free time. The school will also host a special event for students who are interested in pursuing careers in the performing arts. The event will feature workshops and demonstrations by professionals in the performing arts, giving students a chance to explore their interests and learn new skills.

The last day of the break will be a day of fun and celebration. Students will have the chance to participate in a special event, such as a theme party or a talent show.

Throughout the break, students will have the chance to enjoy a variety of activities and events, all designed to help them recharge and refresh during this much-needed time off.

Students learn best when they feel safe, comfortable and supported by peers. When students feel emotionally safe, they are more likely to participate, ask questions, they know they are among friends — and that adds immensely to their learning experience.” Serra Benson, Oak Glen’s third-grade teacher, uses council in her daily classroom routine. “We have an environment that is accepting and non- competitive, student progress is both individually assessed and peer supported. It is really wonderful to see moments of students blossoming in every way.”

Teachers find that time spent on relationships and self-knowledge is not only valuable, but it is set the stage for intellectual growth. Parents often say that what they want for their child’s school experience includes learning about the needs, predilections and personality traits of students. In order to do this, teachers must be successful in it, and keep their love of learning intact. Good feeling becomes good thinking, and they all agree the world needs more of that.
“Sacred Spaces — Explorations with Form, Color and Emotion,” an exhibit of recent work by artist Carlos Grasso, will be on display at the Ojai Art Center, 113 S. Montgomery St., through May 19. A reception will be held Sunday from 1 to 3 p.m. in Barros Ainos, Argentina, Grasso lives and works in Ojai. His multi-faceted creative career began as a professional musician (flute) in Paris in the late ’70s and ’80s, eventually evolving into graphic design and fine arts. His painting apprenticeship involved still-life and portraiture in the classical realism of Old Masters style. Later on, his art evolved toward pure abstraction, incorporating figurative elements, translating abstraction, creating in these cases an interesting and new visual field of experience with the interplay of these two worlds. He is a member of the Ojai Studio Artists. Grasso’s work has been featured in several magazine, is represented by many galleries throughout the country, and is part of private collections in the United States, Brazil and France.

The Villanova Prep baseball team recently faced Thayer in a close contest but the Wildcats jumped all over for the victory. With the win, the Wildcats improved to 2-3 overall and they are 0-1 in Frontier League action.

VPS racked up the hits against Thayer and they had several players with multiple hits in the nonleague game. Leading the way for the Wildcats was Freshman Ryan Pierson, who went 5-for-5 on the day.

Promoting local youth tennis players of all ages has been personally selected by area tennis coaches to participate in the eighth annual Ojai High Performance Tennis Clinic for Youth. The free event sponsored by the Ojai Tennis County Committee (OVTC), increases the prospects of this being another well-attended event.

Many of Ojai's players are anxious to absorb the intense spirit and training techniques and tips from coaches and a number of the area's top tennis enthusiasts who are willing to step in as needed. Some of the well-known pros include Kathleen Rogers, Jeff Ferraris, Dodi Meltzer, and Topper's Pizza Place head teaching pro for the Ojai Valley Athletic Department, and other local pros including Jim Griffith both chipped in.

For more information about the clinic, contact Craig Eagle at craig@ojaivalleynews.com.

High Performance Tennis Clinic Through 28

The performance of the Ojai Roadrunners Tennis Club is impressive. Three matches were won by scores of 14-0.

The Ojai Roadrunners Tennis Club recently hosted their third year of a young tennis event. This year's event will be held at the prestigious Ojai Tennis Club. The eighth annual Ojai High Performance Tennis Clinic for Youth will officially begin the lead up to the 113th Ojai Tennis Tournament which will take place in April.

The event was sponsored by High Performance Tennis and other sponsors including Topper’s Pizza Place, the Ojai Valley Athletic Department, and other area tennis enthusiasts who are willing to step in as needed.

The event is being held at the Ojai Tennis Club. The event will take place tomorrow at the Liberty Park tennis courts. The event will begin the lead up to the 113th Ojai Tennis Tournament which is scheduled for April 25.

Studebakers roll into first place in World Team Tennis

The Studebakers rolled over the Vipers, 34-11, and cruised past the Butterflies, 11-3; the Maroon Manatees beat the Studebakers, winning sets for the first time this season. Nearly 400 young athletes competed across five age divisions. A handful of Roadrunner athletes who qualified for the world championships moved into a tie for first in the 800-meter run. April 5, a day to remember?

It's been one 'heck-of-a-week' north. Korea is once again threatening South Korea, and as I write this we were told to put on our naps as the European Union is about to impose sanctions on Iran. Europe has decided to support the other shoe to drop.

Greg is firing with bankruptcy and I've been looking at the European gun bill. I'm wondering if the other shoe to drop.

Being in my 90s, I have my foot on the accelerator as I see the light of day. And I have to wonder, I can't sleep because the house is never as clean as it should be. I know I'm not alone in my concern, I'm not the only one that's thinking about their home. And I know I'm not the only one that's thinking about their health.

You know, dear, I believe fairly soon we will be able to quit this dish washing. Why do you believe that, Arthur? she inquires.

Because I think this won't work just as past generations believed. I think it will be an important part of the future, a part of our daily lives, Arthur. I mean Arthur Conan Doyle. Arthur has been looking at the problem of the great Sherlock Holmes for years.

The year is 1895, and Sherlock Holmes, a detective with an insatiable curiosity, is investigating a case involving the disappearance of a young woman named Emily. Holmes is driven by his need to solve the mystery, but he finds himself drawn into a web of lies and deceit.

I can't believe fairly soon we will be able to quit this dish washing. Why do you think that, Arthur? she inquires.
