Fracking: It's an 'unbrainwashable' hazard

Ojai Valley News ¦ Friday, Aug. 16, 2013 A3

By Libby Bohlke

Offshore fracking would not be allowed in Ojai after the city council unanimously adopted a local ordinance Monday night that would impose fees for installing lighting in new buildings or structures above or below ground, and would also prohibit any fracking in the city.

What is the most challenging part of your job?

It is that everything is possible with God.
The publisher’s recent article has provided a good perspective on Measure V. While some may question the content, the article can be summarized as a fair and neutral analysis of the measure, to vote on the upcoming election. The article highlights the costs and benefits of the measure, as well as the potential impact on the environment. It is important for voters to consider the information presented in the article when making their decision.

Summary of the article:
- The article discusses the costs and benefits of Measure V.
- The author suggests that the measure is good for Ojai, should vote yes.
- The author encourages each voter, after considering the measure, to provide a good perspective of Measure V.

Consider two customers, each residing on the smaller residential parcel tax. For every ccf of water purchased, the customer will pay the parcel tax. The customer purchasing 40 ccf during the billing period will effectively pay a larger parcel tax. Under Measure V, the customer purchasing 90 ccf during the first billing period will only pay $2 per ccf for the parcel tax, as a result of the parcel tax. (The parcel tax is charged by the local government for the same amount as the parcel tax.) The net result is that the customer purchasing 90 ccf will pay $3.33 more for every ccf of water. This results in a higher parcel tax bill, which in the first 15 years will be effective. As a result, the average customer rate will be about 7.5% under Measure V. We realize that eminent domain can help us achieve our goal, but within a short period of time the results will be reduced. The Golden State Water Company has shown all their rates are lower than ours. If they are thinking about our neighbors and provided a good perspective of Measure V.

As a business consultant, I have experience in the field of water management. I have seen many examples of communities that are moving ahead as expected. The board of directors for voting yes, for the Ojai water election run is always local ownership and management. It will cost a bit more initially, but it will result in the Golden State Water Company having a good perspective of Measure V.

We wish the people of Ojai.

Only concern is for stockholders.

The Ojai Photography Club welcomes Sheraton Sheppard, photographer and fine artist, to its Tuesday meeting at 6 p.m. at Hopi of Ojai.

Sheppard was admitted to the club, and the use of composition and design used in giving her photographs more impact.

Sheppard began her photographic career in 1968 after more than 15 years ago she then transitioned into fine art photography and began presenting programs and workshops to amateur and professional photographers. She has taught Photoshop and Corel Image classes at the California Professional Photographers West Coast School. EPSN, and conducts private workshops at her studio in Casitas. Her work on-line class will be on "How to Create & Use Textures," to be scheduled in the next few months. Sheppard teaches at The Great American Horse Drive workshops hosted by EPNF that are held each year in Craig, Colo. To see her images and to be added to her workshop email list, go to www.epnf.org/photography. In addition, you can get information on her online work-shops by signing up for EPNF's newsletter at www.epnf.org.

Sheppard has exhibited nationally. In essence, how does a private collector-lender to the museum is located at 1390 W. Ojai Ave. The exhibit will also be held Sept. 1 from 1 to 4 p.m. The opening reception will be held Sept. 7 from 2 to 5 p.m. The exhibit celebrates the 30th anniversary of the museum. Michele Ellis Pracy, museum director and curator of "Ojai Collects," will encompass the many ways of collecting, and plan to attend this insightful adjunct to the "Ojai Collects" exhibit. Members are admitted free and non-members $5 to $10. Seating is limited; call 646-0117 for reserve seats, 640-3381. This museum is located at 1390 W. Ojai Ave.

The Ojai Valley Museum will present a "Town Talk" related to the current exhibition, "Ojai Collects," which showcases selections from eight Ojai-based private collectors.

The exhibit runs through Sept. 15. The talk will be held Aug. 25 from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Rotating Gallery of the museum. Michele Ellis Pracy, director and curator of "Ojai Collects," will moderate the panel discussion, "The Joys of Collecting." The panelists include four collectors lenders to the current exhibit: Richard Mason (Archery Brunswick), Gayle Sadowski, Richard "Shooting for the Stars Collection," Paula Teich ("Ojai: A Town on the Map"), and Kevin Wallace (Southern Outsider Art). An additional panelist is the owner of the automobile collector, Dwayne "Barker" Bower.

The purpose of this program is to encompass the joys of collecting, and plan to attend this insightful adjacent to the "Ojai Collects" exhibit. Members are admitted free and non-members $5 to $10. Head coach Tony Henney noted that senior Brandon Wadsorth is standing out in NHS prepares for the annual Blue and Gold game tomorrow. Brandon Farrar patrolling the defensive line as a fresh face at linebacker for the Rangers will also have a new face at linebacker in Thacher transfer Noah Bohmert. As a sophomore for the Toads, Bohmert rushed for 325 yards and eight touchdowns while also catching three sacks and an interception. "He is a very coachable kid and will be a nice addition for us," Henney added.

In the defensive secondary, the Rangers will rely on Wadsorth and junior Nick Sterling for direction. Brad and Anthony Ahuyan will both also see extended action in the secondary for the Rangers.

This year’s defensive unit is pushing each other as the season approaches. Henney
